Can't get enough real estate news?

There are some amazing sites out there regarding real estate. You could waste hours on these sites and even longer finding them. That's why periodically, I'll provide links and reviews of these sites for you.

First up: IntoTheBox.tv

IntoTheBox started in September, and provides daily videos (they are amazing! Daily? Really?) as well as a blog to discuss real estate in New York City. My favorite so far? An analysis of a marketing campaign for an apartment that claims, "If God had an apartment, this would be it."

While the Huntsville, Alabama market is certainly different from NYC, I think everyone can get some daily enjoyment from the videos and blog!
